Mimi Brodsky Chenfeld

For over fifty years, Mimi Brodsky Chenfeld has inspired, taught, testified, supported, encouraged, and lived a life devoted to improving the likelihood that all young children will experience early care and education that is developmentally appropriate, culturally responsive, accepting and supportive of success. Mimi's special love (after kids) is "creative education". This integrates the arts in every aspect of the curriculum with emphasis on movement and writing. She always sparks joy, love and a celebration of learning. Her most recent book, Still Teaching in the Key of Life: Joyful Stories from Early Childhood Settings, released in 2015 celebrates the 20th anniversary of Teaching in the Key of Life.

Since 1970, she has taught in numerous schools and programs in Columbus, Ohio. Her favorite student evaluation is from a six-year-old boy who dubbed her "The Queen of Fun!". Mimi has been and continues to be a powerful advocate for high quality early care & education for the children in Ohio, the nation and beyond!
