A transformational process that will launch your program to greater success.

To reach a breakthrough, you need a transforming, shared experience. It's vital for leaders to get away from day-to-day operations and work ON and not IN the business!

Beth will guide you to elevate your thinking, and break behaviors that are no longer serving your team, and challenge each other to level up!

This event will offer a welcoming, refreshing, and inspiring environment in which to innovate, think and collaborate. This shift in perspective is a rare opportunity for leaders to think about the successes and failures they face in their daily work, AND get a plan to move forward with confidence.
