Building Compassion in Early Childhood Communities

Cori Berg

Cori has been a teacher, director, advocate, trainer, and consultant in the field of Early Childhood Education for over 25 years in public, private, and faith-based settings. Her professional interests include incorporating the arts in curriculum, team building, and educator resilience. She is the Executive Director of Hope Day School in Dallas, Texas. She is also the creator of ECE from the Heart with Cori Berg, a Facebook page and community to support educators and administrators.

Cori has presented on a variety of topics and excels at speaking about supporting the teams of programs as well as communities. Her passion reflects BEING THERE for others. She was awarded the 2020 Administrator of the Year by the Texas Association for the Education of Young Children.
