

Dr. Meghan Salas Atwell

Dr. Meghan Salas Atwell is the Senior Director of Applied Research at NAEYC. In this role, she helps to facilitate position statement revisions, leads evaluation efforts to ensure that modifications to the early learning quality assessment and accreditation are evidence-based, and her team partners with the Policy and Professional Advancement team to design and administer ECE workforce surveys. Meghan holds a Ph.D. in Public Policy and Public Administration, and she has 20 years of applied research experience in various areas of social policy. Meghan lives and works in Cleveland Heights, Ohio with her husband, two kids, and a dog.

Conference Session

Thursday, April 24

8:30 AM - 10:00 AM

An Overview of NAEYC's New Quality Assessment and Accreditation System and Revised Early Childhood Program Standards